Join Us for an Architecture Walk in Honor of Jane Jacobs!

Scott Francisco — April 25, 2014

To celebrate the birthday of the late, great Jane Jacobs, I will be leading a walking tour through Soho next Sunday, May 4 at 12:00 noon.

This fun, FREE walk—through one of the most historic neighborhoods in all of New York City—is part of Jane's Walk, organized by the Municipal Art Society to honor what would have been the 98th birthday of the urban theorist and New Yorker-turned-Torontonian (my home town!). We'll focus on the coolness, and complications, of cast iron architecture.

Please join us! More info here.
